Govt wants India Inc to overhaul salaries

Proposes higher basic income to increase social security contributions

SOMESH JHA
New Delhi, 13 June

The Centre is planning to reform labour laws to ensure employers do not keep basic income low in order to reduce contributions towards social security schemes.

The proposal to make basic income a major component of salary could lead to a decline in the take-home pay of workers as contributions towards provident fund, insurance and gratuity may rise alongside a higher tax outgo.

The government has proposed that salaries should be structured in such a way that allowances for house rent, leave travel and overtime, among others, are capped at 50 per cent of the basic pay. Whatever employers offer as salary beyond this will be treated as basic pay, on which the contribution towards provident fund, insurance and gratuity will be decided.

While some trade union leaders have welcomed the move, industry has opposed it, fearing an increase in its wage bill.

The labour and employment ministry has prepared a detailed note on bringing uniformity in the definition of wages across 19 laws. The ministry has proposed two sets of definitions for wages: One for all laws that have financial implications for employers, including employees' provident fund, employees' state insurance and gratuity; and the second for other labour laws that are part of the proposed Code on Wages Bill 2017.

"The interpretations (of wages) used

GOVT'S PROPOSAL
'Wage' for calculating social security benefits will be defined as a sum of:

- Basic wage
- Dearness allowance
- Retaining allowance

'Allowances' will include:

- Bonus
- House rent allowance
- Value of any house-accommodation
- Contribution towards pension or provident fund
- Travel allowance
- Retrenchment compensation
- Overtime allowance
- Cash value pf food

ALLOWANCES SHOULD NOT BE MORE THAN 50% OF THE WAGE
Rationale

- Employers deflate the basic pay to keep the provident fund and other contributions low
- There are multiple interpretations of wages among employers, employees, inspectors and courts

Impact

- Take-home salary may take a hit
- Provident fund contribution and tax liability to go up by employers, complainant employees and assessing authorities differ significantly, leading to a diversity in the stand taken by officers," the note prepared by the labour ministry said. "Cases have been noticed where employers show basic wages plus dearness allowance as very low, say 10 to 30 per cent, and the remaining wage is shown as various allowances for performance, entertainment and conveyance," the ministry observed.

Most employers pay 12 per cent of the basic wage as their share of the provident fund contribution and deduct from salary 12 per cent as the employee's share. High basic pay could lead to more money flowing towards provident fund, insurance and gratuity contributions, adding to the wage bill of companies.

"This is an encouraging move. It will lead to social security because firms now suppress basic income to save cost," said Virjesh Upadhyay, general secretary of the Bharatiya Mazdoor Sangh (BMS), who was a member of a committee set up by the government to rationalise the definition of wages.

According to the proposal, if the gross salary of an employee is, say, ₹20,000 per month, and the basic income is ₹8,000, then the allowance component cannot exceed ₹4,000.

According to the proposal, if the gross salary of an employee is, say, ₹20,000 per month, and the basic income is ₹8,000, then the allowance component cannot exceed ₹4,000. The remaining ₹8,000 will be included to calculate provident fund, gratuity and insurance contributions.

"Millennials and the younger workforce need more cash in hand. Most employers work on a total reward basis. If the proportion of the retirement fund contribution goes up, employers will reduce other components. The government needs to bring clarity in the definition of wages but there should be no over-reach," said Shallesh Singh, director and chief people officer at Max Life Insurance.

Teamlease Services co-founder Rituparna Chakraborty said the objective behind salary restructuring in the private sector should be to increase the take-home pay.

"By capping allowances, you are creating a large section of wages not accessible to employees. Organisations anyway do not have the flexibility to increase allowances as these are also taxable. Employers should have the freedom to decide their salary structures," she added.

Labour law experts said the government's move could be challenged in court. "I am not sure if it is feasible to talk about what will constitute fixed and variable pay. The definition of wage is not about the quantum, but the component," said K R Shyam Sundar, professor, XLRI Jamshedpur.

The government will need to amend the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1952; the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952; and the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, to bring about a change in the definition of wages applicable for determining social security benefits.

Top B-schools in talks for IIT-like placement panel

VINAY UMARI
Ahmedabad, 18 June

Talks are on among some of the top B-schools in the country, including Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad (IIM-A), IIM Bangalore, IIM Lucknow, IIM Indore, MDI Gurgaon, XLRI Jamshedpur and IIFT Delhi to form an all-India placements committee on the lines of the one that exists for the IITs.

The discussion was part of the agenda at 'Maitri', an annual conference of placement committee members.

While the first conclave was held at IIM-A last year, the event this year took place at IIFT Delhi.

Being conducted by student representatives this time unlike last year, the conference also saw discussions on sharing recruiter experiences and best practices adopted by the top B-schools.

"One of the agendas of Maitri 2018 was to discuss the formation of an all India B-school placements committee which would perform a function similar to the existing All-IITs Placements Committee (AIPC)," the IIFT placement committee's communiqué stated.

IITs already share their best practices and undertake a joint placement process under the AIPC. What's more, the top B-schools have also decided to sign a memorandum of understanding (MoU) in this regard.

"The B-schools decided to abide by an MoU to collectively take action in the interest of the students and adapt best practices from fellow B-schools to improve overall efficiency of the recruitment process," IIFT further stated.

According to one of the placement committee members at IIFT, this year's MoU is unlike that of last year which revolved around aligning the placement calendar with international trends. The panel added that it would take a couple of months before things take concrete shape.

The top B-schools also deliberated on the steps to be taken in the case of different recruiter scenarios. "Some recruiters come to recruit but don't make offers or come up with less number of jobs while some give one job description but come to campus with another. The discussions revolved around how to deal with companies that don't keep their word. However, last year we didn't come across major recruiters not honouring their word," the placement committee member told Business Standard.

B-schools have also witnessed cases where certain companies bypass the placement process by conducting their own competitions. This puts students who participate in such competitions at "Usually, placement committees don't share ideas. However, since employability of students is becoming a concern, it was decided to share the best practices. Discussions also revolved around additional skills required for new and emerging sectors," the member added.

With the B-schools coming together, there will be repercussions across campuses if recruiters do not honour their commitments. While company and student specific data will not be shared, B-schools will reveal how they are conducting the placement process.

NEWSMAKER: SANDEEP BAKHSHI/ COO/ICICI BANK

The last man standing or a turnaround banker?

ICICI's pick for the top job has a seasoned track record with experience in retail and corporate banking

Mumbai, 21 June

Five days ago ICICI Bank's board made an announcement that put to rest a number of theories floating around ICICI Bank-Chanda Kochhar saga that has been making the news for the last couple months. In a notice to stock exchanges, the board announced that Sandeep Bakhshi, the 57-year-old ICICI employee who had been managing director and CEO of ICICI Prudential Life Insurance since 2010, was now promoted to Chief Operating Officer for the bank with a line of reporting that led straight to Kochhar. Kochhar, incidentally had gone on leave and in her absence he would be the de facto top boss.

So why did the board select Bakhshi for the job? In fact, one executive in the banking business said that there was a general view that he was close to retiring because he appeared to have been tuning out from many industry forums and general get togethers. But sources who know the sector well say that of the existing set of potential leaders, Bakhshi was clearly the only choice as he beat out other high-level candidates that included executive directors Anup Bagchi, Vishakha Mulye, NS Kannan, and Vijay Chandok who were lacking the all-round game that Bakhshi has.

To his credit, Bakhshi is one of the few with the breadth and depth of experience across businesses, is seen as a builder of enterprise, reasonably forthright, and to top it all is a leader with his own mind, the source adds. "He was likely to be the least controversial also." The other is his impressive Rolodex in corporate circles in North India. "This will be helpful for the company as it has problems with non-performing assets there, and given his ties with big companies, it will help negotiations," opines a former colleague.

Bakhshi who got his mechanical engineering degree from Punjab Engineering College and an MBA from XLRI, is around the same age as Kochhar and a family man with three grown children. "He's an out-and-out people person who is tip top on etiquette, will walk you to the elevator door when you meet him and all that sort of thing," says one private equity executive.

Nor is his sense of courtesy limited to clients and senior managers. Several colleagues who sent congratulatory SMSes to Bakhshi on Tuesday said they received prompt replies from him.

Having joined ICICI Ltd in 1986, he has seen the institution grow from a development financial institution into a full-fledged financial services entity. He built the general insurance business from scratch, which he joined in 2002. He also groomed a start-up when nobody understood insurance, which is today the largest private sector general insurer.

In 2008, he was at ICICI Lombard but was brought into the bank when the global markets started to see instability. After steadying the ship there, he took charge of ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company in August 2010. In the eight years that he steered ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company its assets under management (AUM) have grown to ₹1.4 trillion now, from ₹57,319 at the end of March 2010.

Even with a seasoned track record with participation across both retail and corporate banking, Bakhshi was never seen as an aggressive hard-charging ambitious corporate leader, says one business executive who has known him, adding that "he isn't driven by material success alone."

So what is he driven by? "He's someone who walks the talk and won't hesitate to change existing ways of business to implement a belief that he has conviction in," says

managing director

and chief executive of

IndiaFirst Life

Insurance Company.

She's not wrong. For example, in the insurance business,

he has been a staunch believer of the five-

year premium pay

products and ULIPs,

and over time

effectively tweaked

the business model at

where most of its revenue come from,

newer Ulip-related products.

The banker, who is polite to a fault, faced one major crisis in his career when there were reported instances of ICICI Bank and ICICI Prudential officials duping hundreds of villagers and farmers in Rajasthan by selling insurance policies cloaked as fixed deposits. The issue was investigated by the Rajasthan police and the policies purchased refunded later.

ICICI was reached for a comment but did not respond as of the time of going to press. That's something Bakhshi would do well to clear the air on right away, given the doubts and confusion that already surround the bank. Either way, his task ahead is not going to be simple, but there is optimism in his selection.

Iso Puri, managing director of UTI Asset

Management Company, says, "Sandeep is a proven, effective, and wise manager, who will quickly restore this very fine institution to the position it deserves." Time will be the best judge.

Bakhshi's sense of courtesy is not limited to clients and senior managers alone. Several colleagues who sent congratulatory SMSes to him on Tuesday said they received prompt replies from him. They say he was never seen as an aggressive hard-charging ambitious corporate leader

एक्सएलआरआई के विद्यार्थियों से रूबरू हुए एआईसीटीई के अध्यक्ष

बिजनेस व लाभ से ऊपर उठना होगा देश के प्रबंधकों को आधारशिला नैतिकता पर निर्भर होनी चाहिए: अनिल

सिटी रिपोर्टर • जमशेदपुर

ऑल इंडिया कार्डफिल फॉर टेक्निकल एजुकेशन (एआईसीटीई) के अध्यक्ष अनिल के सहस्त्रबुद्धे ने एक्सएलआरआई के भावी प्रबंधकों से कहा कि उन्हें बिजनेस और लाभ से ऊपर उठना होगा। बिजनेस की आधारशिला नैतिकता पर निर्भर होनी चाहिए। इसलिए बिजनेस स्कूल के पाठ्यक्रम में मूल्यों को समाहित करना जरूरी हो गया है। सहस्त्रबुद्धे सोमवार को टाटा ऑडिटोरियम में विद्यार्थियों को संबोधित कर रहे थे। उन्होंने कहा कि नैतिकता की पढ़ाई करना और उसे अपनी जिंदगी में समाहित करना दोनों दो चीजें हैं, जिसे समझना होगा। यह तभी होगा जब बिजनेस स्कूल जैसे

बिजनेस स्कूल ऐसे शिक्षकों का चयन करें, जो विद्यार्थियों में नैतिकता का बीज बो सकें, तभी विद्यार्थी मेंटर साबित होंगे

शिक्षकों का चयन करेंगे, जो विद्यार्थियों में नैतिकता का बीज बो सकें। ऐसे शिक्षक विद्यार्थियों के मेंटर साबित होंगे। उन्होंने कहा कि प्रबंधक पिछलग्गू (फॉलोअर्स) नहीं होता है। वह लीडर होता है।

यही नहीं, प्रबंधकों में समाज के प्रति संवेदनशीलता होनी चाहिए, जो समाज को आगे ले जाने में विश्वास करते हैं। उन्हें इनोवेटिव होना होगा और उनकी सोच आउट ऑफ बॉक्स होनी चाहिए। आज देश को ऐसे प्रबंधक चाहिए, जो मैनेजर के साथ लीडर और ऑनप्रैन्योर भी हों। अध्यक्ष ने विद्यार्थियों से कहा कि आज भी देश में जो गैर संगठित क्षेत्र

हैं, उसमें रोजगार की संभावनाएं असीमित हैं। स्मॉल और मीडियम स्केल इंडस्ट्री के क्षेत्र में काफी काम करने की जरूरत है। भविष्य में देश को ऐसे प्रबंधकों की जरूरत होगी, जो गांवों की तस्वीर बदल सकें। डेयरी, पॉल्ट्री, एग्रीकल्चर और हॉर्टिकल्चर के क्षेत्र में उद्यमिता की संभावनाएं काफी हैं। बकौल सहस्त्रबुद्धे, हमारी कोशिश है कि इस पहल के जरिए हम देश के टॉप 100 बिजनेस स्कूलों के पार भी क्वालिटी एजुकेशन दे सकें। यही नहीं, भारत सरकार के मानव संसाधन मंत्रालय ने देश की भावी शिक्षा को इनोवेशन आधारित बनाने की पहल शुरू

की है। स्मार्ट इंडिया हैकरथॉन के जरिए इनोवेशन और ऑनलाइन कोर्स को मुहैया कराने की कोशिश की जा रही है। प्रोफेसर सहस्त्रबुद्धे देश में अच्छे शिक्षकों पर जोर दिया और कहा कि शिक्षा की सूरत यही बदल सकते हैं। उन्होंने कहा कि सरकार स्कूल स्तर पर इनोवेशन को प्रोत्साहित करने के लिए टिकरिंग लैब शुरू कर रही है। उन्होंने आईआईएम एक्ट की चर्चा करते हुए कहा कि पीजीडीएम और एमबीए समकक्ष पाठ्यक्रम है। उन्होंने कस्तूरी रंगन कमिटी की भी चर्चा की, जिसने देश की नई शिक्षा नीति का ड्राफ्ट तैयार किया है। इसके पहले संस्थान के निदेशक फादर ई अब्राहम ने स्वागत भाषण दिया। अंत में धन्यवाद ज्ञापन डीन एकेडमिक) आशीष के पाणी ने दिया।

उन्होंने कहा कि मैनेजर को फॉलोअर नहीं, लीडर बनना होगा। उन्हें समाज को वापस देने में खुद को जोर देना चाहिए। नए आइडिया सोचना होगा। मैनेजर, लीडर व उद्यमियों का मिश्रण वाले प्रबंधन स्नातकों की आज आवश्यकता है। उन्होंने कहा कि शिक्षा उत्कृष्टता का अभिव्यक्ति होनी चाहिए और अकेले

सभी पीजीडीएम पाठ्यक्रम आइआइएम द्वारा प्रदान किए गए एमपीए कोर्स के स्तर का है। स्कूली स्तर पर छात्रों को न केवल उच्च शिक्षा में ही प्रोत्साहित किया जाना चाहिए, बल्कि पारंपरिक दायरा से इतरकर सोचने वाले विद्यार्थियों को प्रोत्साहित किया जा सके। ऐसा करने से समाज को अच्छी सोच वाले लोग मिलेंगे। इससे सामाजिक स्तर के लोगों का तेजी से सुधार होगा। जब विद्यार्थी की प्रगति होगी तो समाज की प्रगति होके स्वयं की। डॉ. अनिल डी सहस्रबुद्धे, चेयरमैन एआईसीटीई

में चल रहे टुंड के बारे में जानने का अवसर प्राप्त होता है। छात्रों के पास सामाजिक दृष्टिकोण होना चाहिए और मौजूदा समस्याओं और समाज की मांगों के प्रति संवेदनशील होना होगा। उन्होंने भारत के असंगठित क्षेत्र में प्रचलित अवसरों पर जोर दिया। डॉ. सहस्रबुद्धे ने कहा कि छात्रों को छोटे और मध्यम-स्तर के उद्योगों में नौकरी

के अवसर पैदा करने के तरीकों को ढूंढना चाहिए। छात्रों को ग्रामीण क्षेत्रों में रोजगार के अवसर पैदा करने की दिशा में सोचना चाहिए। डेयरी, कुकट पालन, कृषि, बागवानी जैसे क्षेत्रों को महत्वपूर्ण उद्यमशील उद्यमों के रूप में भी देखा जाना चाहिए।

उन्होंने 'मार्गदर्शन' नामक एआईसीटीई की पहल पर प्रकाश

डाला, जिसमें उत्कृष्टता के मानकों को प्राप्त करने के लिए संघर्ष करने वाले संस्थानों के संकाय को अपनी शिक्षण नीतियों और पद्धति का पालन करने के लिए क्रोम संस्थाओं में आमंत्रित किया जाता है। इस अवसर पर, उन्होंने भारत में शिक्षा के भविष्य में तेजी लाने के लिए एमएचआरडी विभाग द्वारा किए गए कदमों के बारे में भी बात की। स्मार्ट इंडिया हैकथॉन जैसी पहल, सभी अकादमिक प्रमाणपत्रों और डिग्री की ऑनलाइन उपलब्धता के लिए राष्ट्रीय शैक्षिक डिपोजिटरी, देश में विदेशी छात्रों को आकर्षित करने के लिए भारत में अध्ययन देश की शिक्षा प्रणाली में सुधार और सुधार के लिए सभी कदम उठाए गए हैं।

नैतिकता सिखाने के लिए माल्या, मोदी के किस्से पढ़ा रहे बी-स्कूल

XLRI और SPJIMR जैसे टॉप बिजनेस स्कूलों ने मैनेजर्स की नई पीढ़ी के लिए अपने पाठ्यक्रम बदले

श्रीराधा बसु | कोलकाता

देश के कॉरपोरेट सेक्टर से जहाँ इन दिनों घोटालों, फ्रॉड और बोर्ड रूम में होने वाली लड़ाइयों की खबरें आ रही हैं, वहीं दूसरी तरफ देश के बिजनेस स्कूल इनसे सीख लेते हुए अपने पाठ्यक्रम में अब नैतिकता और गवर्नेंस पर ज्यादा जोर दे रहे हैं। इसके पीछे इनका मकसद अच्छे चरित्र वाले बिजनेस लीडर्स की एक पीढ़ी तैयार करना है। जिन बिजनेस स्कूलों ने अपने पाठ्यक्रम में बदलाव किया है, उनमें इंडियन इंस्टीट्यूट ऑफ मैनेजमेंट (आईआईएम), एक्सएलआरआई जमशेदपुर और एसपीजेआईएमआर मुंबई प्रमुख हैं। नए कोर्स में इन स्कूलों ने स्टूडेंट्स को नैतिकता, कॉरपोरेट गवर्नेंस, कॉरपोरेट सोशल रिस्पॉन्सिबिलिटी से जुड़े मुद्दे समझाने के लिए देश-विदेश के कई मामलों को शामिल किया है।

इनमें विजय माल्या से लेकर नरव मोदी तक के घोटाले भी शामिल हैं। इन मुद्दों पर कोर्स में ग्लोबल एक्सपर्ट्स की राय को भी रखा गया है। आईआईएम बैंगलोर में दो साल के एमबीए प्रोग्राम की चेयरपर्सन पद्मिनी श्रीनिवासन ने बताया, 'हमें उम्मीद है कि

नए कोर्स में इन स्कूलों ने स्टूडेंट्स को नैतिकता, कॉरपोरेट गवर्नेंस, कॉरपोरेट सोशल रिस्पॉन्सिबिलिटी से जुड़े मुद्दे समझाने के लिए देश-विदेश के कई मामलों को शामिल किया है

कॉरपोरेट गवर्नेंस और नैतिकता से जुड़े कोर्स छात्रों को एक सीमित ज्ञान से बाहर निकलने के लिए प्रभावित करेंगे। साथ ही, इससे उन्हें समाज के लिए सकारात्मक बदलाव लाने के स्किल सीखने में मदद मिलेगी।' उन्होंने कहा कि देश का प्रमुख शिक्षण संस्थान होने के नाते आईआईएम बैंगलोर की जिम्मेदारी है कि वह यंग लीडर्स को तैयार करे। इसको ध्यान में रखकर संस्थान ने अपने पाठ्यक्रम में बदलाव किया है। अभी तक आईआईएम बैंगलोर का कॉरपोरेट गवर्नेंस पर कोर्स विभिन्न नियमों और उनके पालन करने के तरीकों, कंपनसेशन स्ट्रक्चर और शेयरहोल्डर की संपत्ति बढ़ाने पर केंद्रित था। वहीं आज इस बात पर जोर दिया जा रहा है कि कंपनियाँ ज्यादा

नैतिक और समावेशी तरीके से कैसे व्यवहार कर सकती हैं। इसमें कंपनी की गवर्नेंस, उसकी मार्केट में बने रहने की स्ट्रेटजी और सीएसआर शामिल हैं। पद्मिनी ने बताया, 'इसके अलावा कोर्स में उन नैतिक दुविधाओं और टकरावों की स्थिति को भी शामिल किया गया है जिसका सामना मैनेजर को अपने करियर में करना पड़ता है। कोर्स में इन स्थितियों से निपटने और एक बेहतर निर्णय लेने के लिए जरूरी ढाँचे और प्रक्रिया को बताया गया है।'

मुंबई के एसपीजेआईएमआर ने पिछले साल ही अपने नैतिकता वाले कोर्स में बदलाव किया था। इसके तहत इसमें शामिल होने वाले सभी छात्रों को टॉप बिजनेस लीडर्स के साथ नैतिकता पर इंटरव्यू देना अनिवार्य कर दिया गया है क्योंकि इससे छात्रों को नैतिक दुविधाओं, लीडरशिप की भूमिका और इससे जुड़े अन्य मुद्दों को समझने में मदद मिलती है। वहीं एक्सएलआरआई ने बिजनेस से जुड़े 30 से ज्यादा मामलों को अपने नैतिकता पाठ्यक्रम में शामिल किया है। इसमें उबर स्कैंडल को भी शामिल किया है जिसकी वजह से उसकी सीईओ को पद छोड़ना पड़ा था।

एक्सएलआरआई के निदेशक फादर इ अब्राहम बोले देश सामाजिक-आर्थिक संक्रमण से गुजर रहा

जमशेदपुर | संवाददाता

भारत वर्तमान में अपने सामाजिक-आर्थिक संक्रमण के चुनौतीपूर्ण दौर में है। हम भौगोलिक-राजनीतिक परिवर्तनों के बीच में हैं, जो जटिल और अप्रत्याशित है।

वैश्विक घटनाओं के बीच राष्ट्र, संगठन और शैक्षणिक संस्थान और सभी को किसी भी तरह के परिवर्तन के लिए तैयार रहना होगा, यह कहना था एक्सएलआरआई के निदेशक फादर इ अब्राहम का। एक्सएलआरआई में सोमवार से विभिन्न कोर्स के शैक्षणिक सत्र के उद्घाटन समारोह में फादर इ अब्राहम ने कहा कि एक्सएलआरआई उच्च शिक्षा संस्थान के साथ ही सामाजिक संस्थान है। यहां सामाजिक मूल्यों का निर्वहन शिक्षा के माफ़त पूरा होता है। संस्थान ऐसे नेतृत्वकर्ता बनाने की कोशिश करता है, जो संवेदनशील व्यापार के साथ ही सामाजिक दायित्वों

विद्यार्थियों में सोचने की क्षमता विकसित करनी होगी

जमशेदपुर | संवाददाता

उच्च शिक्षा नहीं, अब हमें प्राथमिक शिक्षा के स्तर ही विद्यार्थियों में सोचने और नया नजरिया विकसित करने के रोडमैप पर काम करना होगा। भारत सरकार इसी दिशा में स्कूलों में अटल टिकरिंग लैब, स्मार्ट इंडिया हैकथॉन जैसे कई कदम उठा रही है, यह कहना था एआईसीटीई के चेयरमैन अनिल सहस्रबुद्धे का।

एक्सएलआरआई में सोमवार को आयोजित इंटरैक्टिव सेशन में एक्सलर्स को संबोधित करते हुए एआईसीटीई के चेयरमैन अनिल सहस्रबुद्धे ने कहा कि पूर्व शैक्षणिक व्यवस्था हमारे युवाओं के लिए बोझ है। हमें इनपुट नहीं, बल्कि

आउटपुट बेस्ड शैक्षणिक व्यवस्था चाहिए। इसमें विद्यार्थी सोचे, रिसर्च करे, कुछ नया इजाद करें। इसके लिए शैक्षणिक संस्थानों को पाठ्यक्रम को क्रियाकलाप, टीम थिंकिंग, रिसर्च बेस्ड और सामाजिक बदलाव पर आधारित होना चाहिए। इसके साथ ही टीमवर्क और टाइम मैनेजमेंट पाठ्यक्रम का हिस्सा होने चाहिए। इससे पहले समारोह में

एक्सएलआरआई के निदेशक फादर डेब्राहम ने एआईसीटीई के चेयरमैन अनिल सहस्रबुद्धे का स्वागत किया। वहीं अनिल सहस्रबुद्धे ने कार्यक्रम की शुरुआत की।

Managers should look beyond business and profit: Chairman, AICTE

XLRI holds interactive session with Prof. Anil D Sahasrabudhe

PNS ■ JAMSHEDPUR

Professor, Anil D Sahasrabudhe, Chairman, All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), has said that managers should look beyond business and profit. They should be imbued with moral and ethical values. Hence ethics course should be a compulsory component of the curriculum. It is one thing to know ethics and another to practice. Therefore institutes must take special care into appointing the right faculty to take up the course. So that students can look upto them and hold them as mentors.

XLRI- Xavier School of Management, Jamshedpur on Monday organised an Interactive Session with Prof Sahasrabudhe on The Future of Higher Education in India-Management Education in India.

Addressing the session, Prof. Anil D Sahasrabudhe said, "Education should be the manifestation of excellence and an academic curriculum alone is not enough. There should be enough of co-curricular activity in academic institutes to provide holistic development of students. Education should be output based and not input based. A good infrastructure, laboratories, libraries are part of the input. However, an outcome-based education is where focus is on student achievement after undergoing the course, recruitment of distinguished set of faculty members and an institute having a well-defined vision and values to guide its curriculum. Students should have a social outlook and be sensitized to the prevailing problems and demands of the society. Life skills like team work, time management are important traits."

He stressed on opportunities prevailing in India's unorganized sector. Students must find ways to create job opportunities in small and medium-scale industries and thus tap the unused resources. A breakthrough in future is possible if more management graduates turn to rural sector and create job opportunities for the society. Sectors like dairy, poultry, agriculture, horticulture should also be seen as significant entrepreneurial ventures."

Welcoming the chairman, Fr. E. Abraham, director, XLRI said, "We are extremely privileged to have in our midst today Prof. Anil Sahasrabudhe. I have interacted with many Chairmen of AICTE since last several years; however I have found Prof Sahasrabudhe as the most approachable and sympathetic to the PGDM institutions. Whenever we approached him, he listened to our problems and asked for our suggestions to solve them. Recently he found an amicable solution to the 2010 circular which almost took away the autonomy of the PGDM Schools. Not only that he has taken several initiatives to improve technical and management education in the country."

इंजीनियरिंग और मैनेजमेंट में चल रहा 20वीं सदी का कोर्स

लखनऊ रिपोर्टर्स जमशेदपुर

ऑनलाइन डिजिटल कंटेंट प्रोडक्शन (एआइसीटीई) के चेयरमैन डॉ अनिल डी सहस्त्रबुद्धे का कहना है कि देश की शिक्षा व्यवस्था में बड़े पैमाने पर बदलाव की जरूरत है। सोमवार सुबह एक्सएलआरआई में विद्यार्थियों और फैकल्टी से बातचीत के दौरान उन्होंने कहा, 'शिक्षा को रोजगारोन्मुखी बनने की आवश्यकता है, इसके लिए समय-समय पर पाठ्यक्रम को मौलिक बनाने की जरूरत है, कई कॉलेजों में अब भी 20वीं सदी का कोर्स ही चल रहा है, इसे 21 सदी के अनुकूल बदलने की जरूरत है ताकि पीछे चलने के मुआविके युवाओं को ट्रेड किया जा सके।' एअइसीटीई चेयरमैन ने विंता जवाही कि एसीएल व इंजीनियरिंग को डिग्री हासिल करने के बाद भी युवाओं को रोजगार नहीं मिल रहा है जिससे कोर्स के प्रति लगाव कम हो रहा है, उन्होंने मौजूदा शिक्षा व्यवस्था को कार्यशील और उनसे निबटने के संभावित उपायों पर भी चर्चा की, इसके लिए उन्होंने एक्सएलआरआई जैसे संस्थान को आगे आने का आह्वान भी किया, चर्चा में एक्सएलआरआई के डायरेक्टर प्रफ़ेसर डी अग्रवाल, डीन अशोक पांडे, एमएल काशी संछा में अन्य फैकल्टी व एक्सपर्ट्स शामिल थे।

मैनेजमेंट की 53, इंजीनियरिंग की 52
प्रतिभासिटी रह गयी खाली

डॉ सहस्त्रबुद्धे ने स्थिति की भयावहता को चर्चा करते हुए उन्होंने विद्यार्थियों और फैकल्टी के समक्ष आंकड़े भी रखे, उन्होंने कहा, 'सिखी का अंदाज इस बात से लगाया जा सकता है कि देश में एसीएल की कुल चार लाख सीटों में से मात्र 1 लाख 90 हजार

हर साल देश के 5 लाख युवा जाते हैं विदेश

देश के सरकारों व निजी सेक्टर के कुल 2357 कॉलेजों में 17 लाख 40 हजार सीटें हैं जिसमें करीब 8.99 लाख सीटें खाली रह गयीं, यानी करीब 52 प्रतिशत सीटें इंजीनियरिंग में भी खाली गयीं, सालाना करीब 75000 इंजीनियरिंग के छात्र काम से रहे हैं, यह देश के सामने खड़े खाली स्थिति है, 'चर्चा में चेयरमैन ने कहा

कि समय-समय पर एअइसीटीई डिग्री शिक्षकों को भारत में आमंत्रित करनी है, ताकि हमारी शिक्षा व्यवस्था वर्तमान से बेहतर बन जाये, भारत बड़ा प्रतिभाशाली देश है कि हम शिक्षा के डार देशों में हर किसी के लिए खुला रखते हैं, क्योंकि हमारा मानना है कि एअइसीटीई ट्रेनिंग के जरूरी ही मानव संसाधन का विकास संभव है, उन्होंने बताया कि भारत से प्रतिवर्ष 5 लाख युवा गैरदेशी के लिए विदेश जाते हैं जबकि विदेश से सिर्फ 50 हजार युवा की भारत आते हैं, हम एअइसीटीई सिस्टम को इस प्रकार बनाने की दिशा में काम कर रहे हैं ताकि आने वाले समय में इस आंकड़े को बढ़ाया जा सके।

New batch of 543 future managers joins XLRI

Jamshedpur, June 11 : Xavier School of Management (XLRI) welcomed the new batch of students of the new academic session of 2018 at a formal ceremony of commencement on Monday. A total of 543 students joined the illustrious XLRI student fraternity, including the three flagship programmes.

The new students were welcomed at a solemn, inaugural prayer service function at XLRI Campus in presence of all the current students, faculty and staff members. The welcome ceremony was addressed by Fr. E. Abraham, S.J., Director, Dr. Ashis K Pani, Dean [Academics] and Fr. Jerry Cutinha, S.J., Dean [Administration & Finance] at XLRI.

Welcoming the new batch of students, Father E. Abraham, director, XLRI said, "India is presently at a very challenging phase of its socio-economic transition. We are in the midst of geo-political changes that are both complex and unpredictable. In these times of Post-Trump, Post-Brexit and Post-Truth and high oil prices it seems nations, organizations, and educational institutions like ours and also all of us as individuals have to be prepared for any non-linear, macro socio-economic eventuality."

"XLRI, besides being a higher learning institution is also a social institution. We have to carry out our responsibilities as a social entity. A strong connection with the society will provide the edifice for value-oriented learning. This will instill in future business leaders like you all a sensitivity that will inspire you to search for solutions to vexed socio-economic problems in the environment in which we are living. The onus is on institutions like XLRI to produce men and women of substance and character, not merely competent professionals," he further added.

Introducing the new batch of students to the accomplished faculty members of the institute, Dr. Ashis K Pani, Dean [Academics], XLRI commented, "XLRI is known for its academic excellence as well as instilling in its students the right values through courses, activities, events and the environment it creates. A unique feature in the first term will be the Village Exposure Programme and the Outbound Programme. Both the programmes have been designed to create awareness among the students of life in rural India, as well as the importance of team spirit. Such an integral and value-based formation will impel the future managers to be innovative, competent and creative leaders."

The new students will be taken through a Special Orientation Programme drawn up by XLRI to update their knowledge before regular classes commence. The first year students will also be taken for XLRI's compulsory Village Exposure Programme and the Outbound Programme. Both the programmes have been specially designed for the students to create awareness about the realities rural India.

Managers should look beyond business and profit: Chairman, AICTE

Jamshedpur, June 18 : Prof. Anil D Sahasrabudhe, Chairman, All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) has said that managers should look beyond business and profit. They should be imbued with moral and ethical values. Hence ethics course should be a compulsory component of the curriculum. It is one thing to know ethics and another to practice. Therefore institutes must take special care into appointing the right faculty to take up the course. So that students can look upto them and hold them as mentors.

XLRI- Xavier School of Management, Jamshedpur on Monday organised an Interactive Session with Prof Sahasrabudhe on The Future of Higher Education in India-

XLRI holds interactive session with Prof. Anil D Sahasrabudhe

Management Education in India.

Addressing the session, Prof. Anil D Sahasrabudhe said, "Education should be the manifestation of excellence and an academic curriculum alone is not enough. There should be enough of co-curricular activity in academic institutes to provide holistic development of students. Education should be output based and not input based. A good infrastructure, laboratories, libraries are part of the input. However, an out-based education is where focus is on student achievement after undergoing the course, recruitment of distinguished set of faculty members and an institute having a well-defined vision and values to guide its curriculum. Students should have a social outlook and be sensitized to the prevailing problems and demands of the society. Life skills like team work, time management are important traits." He stressed on opportunities prevailing in India's unorganized sector. Students must find ways to create job opportunities in small and medium-scale industries and thus tap the unused resources. A breakthrough in future is possible if more management graduates turn to rural sector and create job opportunities for the society. Sectors like dairy, poultry, agriculture, horticulture should also be seen as significant entrepreneurial ven-

Welcoming the chairman, Fr. E. Abraham, director, XLRI said, "We are extremely privileged to have in our midst today Prof. Anil Sahasrabudhe.

I have interacted with many Chairmen of AICTE since last several years; however I have found Prof Sahasrabudhe as the most approachable and sympathetic to the PGDM institutions.

Whenever we approached him, he listened to our problems and asked for our suggestions to solve them. Recently he found an amicable solution to the 2010 circular which almost took away the autonomy of the PGDM Schools. Not only that he has taken several initiatives to improve technical and management education in the country."

ET PROFILE SANDEEP BAKHSHI
COO, ICICI Bank

An Experienced Hand Who Values His Ties with ICICI

Shilpy Sinha
@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: Many years ago, when Sandeep Bakhshi, flying economy class spotted a junior colleague in business class, he reminded him that money doesn't just belong to shareholders but to policy holders as well, and it's their duty to be frugal in their ways.

That's 57-year-old Bakhshi for you, an affable man, who will now helm ICICI Bank as its chief operating officer, at least until an independent investigation into the alleged charges against Chanda Kochhar's nepotism and impropriety is completed. Probably, he may carry on even longer.

"He is a very balanced, stable and mature person," said V Vaidyanathan, founder and chairman Capital First, and a former colleague of Bakhshi.

Bakhshi though is no stranger to crisis. During the 2008 global financial crisis, he was brought into ICICI Bank as deputy managing director from ICICI Lombard as delinquencies started rising in the bank.

After steadying the ship at the bank, Bakhshi took charge of ICICI Prudential Life in August 2010, when the industry itself was rudderless. In the eight years that he steered Prudential, its assets under management (AUM) have grown to ₹1.4 lakh crore now, from ₹57,319 at the end of March 2010.

But why did the ICICI board choose a candidate who has just got a two-year extension as chief of its life insurance business, and was almost in retirement mode?

With over 30 years in ICICI Ltd, Bakhshi brings in lot of experience to this post, said Kamesh Goyal chairman Digit Insurance. "He is close to the business and only one who knows corporate banking, retail banking, life insurance and general insurance," said Goyal.

Having joined ICICI Ltd in 1986, he has seen the institution grow from just a development financial institution into a full-fledged financial services entity. He built the general insurance business from scratch, which he joined in 2002. He also groomed a start-up when nobody understood insurance, which is today the largest private sector general insurer.

Bakhshi is no stranger to crisis. During the 2008 global financial crisis, he was brought into ICICI Bank as deputy managing director from ICICI Lombard as delinquencies started rising

An MBA from Xavier Labour Relations Institute, or XLRI, Jamshedpur, he has groomed many CEOs, including Ritesh Kumar, MD and CEO HDFC Ergo, Anuj Gulati, MD, Religare Health Insurance, Nilesh Garg, MD and CEO Tata AIG General Insurance, Rakesh Jain, CEO Reliance General Insurance, and Tarun Chugh, MD and CEO Bajaj Allianz Life Insurance.

For a man who has served ICICI for 32 years, Bakhshi finds his ride with the organization "exciting". "Every day I believe that I am in ICICI because I need ICICI. ICICI can get 100 Sandeep Bakhshis, but for me, there is no better opportunity than ICICI," he had told ET recently.

B-Schools Focus on Uber, Nirav Cases for Lessons on Ethics

Sreeradha Basu @timesgroup.com

Kolkata: As a series of scams, frauds and boardroom battles continue to rock India Inc, top business schools in the country are stepping up their focus on ethics and governance in their programmes, to help shape a generation of right-minded business leaders.

The Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs), XLRI Jamshedpur and SPJIMR Mumbai are among B-schools redesigning their courses, bringing in inputs from global experts and developing cases in India and abroad, including scams involving Vijay Mallya to Nirav Modi, to educate students on issues around ethics, corporate governance and corporate social responsibility.

"We hope that various courses such as corporate governance and ethics influence students to move beyond a knowledge and skill-building objective to a more purposeful existence that can bring a positive change to the society," said Pravin Shivdasani, chairperson of two-year MBA course at IIM Bangalore.

She believes that as a leading academic institution, IIMB has a responsibility to shape young minds. "Traditionally, IIMB's course on corporate governance had focused on law and its compliance, compensation structures, and shareholder wealth maximisation. Today, the emphasis is on how companies can behave more ethically and in a more inclusive manner that involves governance, sustainability and social issues even as they pursue profit," further, she said.

Mumbai-based SPJIMR redesigned its business ethics course last year to make it mandatory for every participant to do interviews with top business leaders on ethics as it is practiced, ethical dilemmas, the role of leadership, and related issues. Since December 2017, students have interviewed the likes of Thermax chairperson Meher Padamjee, TVS Capital managing director D Sundaram, Pritish MD Bhansuri, and Mahindra & Mahindra president farm equipment sector Rajesh Jajuri, among others. "We begin our course by posing the question, 'Can ethics be taught?'" said Jagdish

XLRI has added more than 30 recent business cases in its ethics course "to reflect the contemporary corporate turbulent markets of today," said Oswald Mascarenhas SJ, JRD Tata chair professor of business ethics at the Jamshedpur-based B-school. They include Uber scandals that drove CEO Travis Kalanick out, the feud off between founder Narayana Murthy and CEO Vishal Sikka at Infosys, and the Nirav Modi Punjab National Bank scam.

While simply having a course on ethics does not solve the problem of ethical leadership, what has changed is that while earlier it was not perceived as important, now there is an understanding that such qualities need to be inculcated in business managers, said Manish Thakur, professor at IIM Calcutta.

Govt has little to show on labour reforms front

SURYA SARATHI RAY
New Delhi, June 28

HUGE EXPECTATIONS NOTWITHSTANDING, the government seems to be faltering in the path of labour reforms.

Besides the introduction of fixed-term employment – first in the garment industry and then in all the sectors – it hasn't made much headway. It is also unlikely that except the planned wages code, the other reform-oriented labour legislations will become a reality during the term of the current government.

Immediately after taking charge in May 2014, the Narendra Modi government embarked on the plan to amalgamate 44 central Acts on labour into four codes. This was touted to be a major labour reform initiative. However, the Centre could only introduce the wage code, which proposes universalisation of minimum wages, in the Lok Sabha, while the three other codes – on industrial relations, social security and safety and working conditions – are yet to be finalised.

RSS-affiliated Bharatiya Mazdoor Sangh (BMS) squarely blamed policymakers for neglecting the importance of tripartite mechanism needed to bring in large-scale labour reforms.

KR Shyam Sundar, professor at XLRI, said the government's efforts to introduce big-ticket reforms remained a non-starter due to complexities created in the codification process.

According to Teamlease Services co-founder and senior vice-president Rituparna Chakraborty, meaningful labour reforms, which encourage ease of doing business and attract new investments, would have helped the government to draw a sustained road map towards formal job creation.

BMS president Saji Narayanan said, "On many of the reform initiatives, neither employer organisations nor trade unions and the state governments are happy because those came from policymakers who have no idea about ground realities. The only way out to push forward the reform process will be through employer organisations and worker organisations sitting together and shaping their own destiny..."

Sundar, however, said "The NDA government has carried out minor and well-meant labour reforms, but their efforts to make big-ticket reforms remained a non-starter because of the complexities created in the codification process and absence of application of mind. As a result, the government is neither appreciated by the employers' body nor the trade unions."

Chakraborty said addition to formal jobs in the last one year was ushered in by a combination of fiscal boldness (note ban, GST implementation) and amnesty schemes (EPFO subsidy), rather than through impactful labour reforms.

Why B-schoolers are opting for social internships

Students want to learn social responsibility that is not taught in classrooms

APUURVA SRIDHARAN
Chennai, June 13

Internships in B-schools are a big deal. Not only do they add value to students' resumes, but also give them the exposure to what it is like to be in the real-world. While most students opt for summer internships at corporates, some of them are now choosing social internships — that is, working with NGOs or in the CSR wing of companies.

Ground zero

Smriti Mahlawat, a second-year student of IMI Delhi, decided to intern with Professional Assistance for Development Action, an NGO that works for the upliftment of marginalised women. Working in the remote area of Jamsola, which lies on the border of Odisha and West Bengal, she studied how the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act impacted the place in the last five years.

"A professor told us 20 years from now, there won't be any water left. At Jamsola, I saw this first hand. This social responsibility cannot be taught in class," Mahlawat said.

For a cause Social internships offer students the best platform to bring about a change in society

The remuneration ranges from unpaid internships to earning around ₹20,000 a month. While some choose this path voluntarily, others tread here because it is compulsory. In fact, social internships are now catching up in B-schools. IIM Indore's five-year Integrated Management Programme mandates students to dabble in this area at the end of their third year. XLRI has a Village Exposure Programme and an Outbound Programme for its first-year students.

SPJIMR, too, integrated a mandatory social internship programme in its management curriculum. "In 2001, the Centre for Development of Corporate Citizenship (DoCC) was established and implemented in all the programmes," said Nirja Mattoo, Chairperson of the centre.

New learnings

Harish Khanna, a first-year MBA student at IIT Madras' Department of Management Studies, bagged a market research profile with Rural Technology Action Group (RuTag) in Pattamadai, Tirunelveli, which is famous for its mats. His job entails him to come up with ideas on how a product can be marketed better. "I have no prior experience, and most of the other internships required it. When I came across this profile I was convinced The work I am doing is quite raw, and involves no software," said Khanna.

A number of students want to bring about a change in the society. "Reading about an issue and meeting people who have been affected are two different things," said Vandit Sawansukha of IIM Indore. He is interning with SELCO Foundation in its incubation department.

Ankit Kumar Gupta, his batchmate, is working with Waste Warriors in Corbett, as its data manager. "When you are in a corporate setting, you get to see only numbers. But on a social internship, you meet different people, which makes you humble."

New career choice?

A few of the students are even rethinking their career choices. Mahlawat said: "I am reconsidering my career choices because this society needs us. But in this sector, you start with a very low income. That might be why MBA students are reluctant to join the sector, since they have invested a lot on their education."

Sawansukha said: I believe social internship is a good experience. If we are in positions to take decisions that will affect everyone, it is good if we are cognisant of the underlying issues that our country faces."

New batch of 543 future managers joins XLRI

Students to undergo Village Exposure Programme

PNS ■ JAMSHEDPUR

Xavier School of Management (XLRI) welcomed the new batch of students of the new academic session of 2018 at a formal ceremony of commencement on Monday. A total of 543 students joined the illustrious XLRI student fraternity, including the three flagship programmes.

The new students were welcomed at a solemn, inaugural prayer service function at XLRI Campus in presence of all the current students, faculty and staff members. The welcome ceremony was addressed by Fr. E. Abraham, S.J., Director, Dr. Ashis K Pani, Dean [Academics] and Fr. Jerry Cutinha, S.J., Dean [Administration & Finance] at XLRI.

Welcoming the new batch of students, Father E. Abraham, director, XLRI said, "India is presently at a very challenging phase of its socio-economic transition. We are in the midst of geo-political changes that are both complex and unpredictable. In these times of Post-Trump, Post-Brexit and Post-Truth and high oil prices it seems nations, organizations, and educational institutions like ours and also all of us as individuals have to be prepared for any non-linear, macro socio-economic eventuality."

"XLRI, besides being a higher learning institution is also a social institution. We have to carry out our responsibilities as a social entity. A strong connection with the society will provide the edifice for value-oriented learning. This will instill in future business leaders like you all a sensitivity that will inspire you to search for solutions to vexed socio-economic problems in the environment in which we are living. The onus is on institutions like XLRI to produce men and women of substance and character, not merely competent professionals," he further added.

Introducing the new batch of students to the accomplished faculty members of the institute, Dr. Ashis K Pani, Dean [Academics], XLRI commented, "XLRI is known for its academic excellence as well as instilling in its students the right values through courses, activities, events and the environment it creates. Travelling for a cause

The second edition of Garlanding India witnessed riders from IITs and IIMs embarking upon a cross-country road tour to raise funds for children and sports organisations

UDAY DAMODARAN

In an effort to raise funds for social causes, I embarked upon a cross-country road tour covering a distance of 16000 kms for nearly two months, tracing the boundaries of India, which inspired the name of the initiative — Garlanding India.

The first edition of the initiative in 2014 brought funds of Rs 12 lakhs to 23 partner NGOs as donations from hundreds of folk who tracked the journey on my website. There were no corporate sponsors but along the route, strangers, friends and relatives took me in for the night, provided dinner, bed and breakfast; and set me off on the road the next day with prayers and a packed lunch; Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs and Christians my hosts represented every faith.

Inspired by this effort, a number of people expressed interest in being part of a second edition and thus Garlanding India 2.0 was born. The design was tweaked so that other travellers would be involved, and in larger numbers. The country was divided into four distinct segments. Volunteer bike riders would ride each segment, raising funds for social causes. Mimicking the original Garlanding India, the riders would be hosted by volunteer hosts.

The focus of Garlanding India 2.0 is on raising funds for children. Ekjut, an NGO doing commendable work in the areas of infant health and nutrition is one of the beneficiaries. Increasingly, with sports catching on in India in a big way, excellence in the field provides a ray of hope for the youth. Therefore the other four beneficiaries of Garlanding India 2.0 are wrestler Yogeshwar Dutt's Wrestling Academy in his village of Bali in Haryana, track and field athlete PT Usha's Usha School of Athletics, in Balussery in Kerala, Indian Olympic boxer Mary Kom's Mary Kom Regional Boxing Foundation in remote Imphal and Olympic Gold Quest, the organisation founded by sportspersons Geet Sethi and Prakash Padukone. The focus was on rural India and on other sports beyond cricket.

Because the emphasis was on youth and sports, and since many of the riders are MBAs from India's top institutes we got the involvement of universities, IITs and IIMs. The riders of Southern Spin, the southern segment, were flagged off from IIM Bangalore on 19 December 2017. Four bike riders — Ankur, Aniruddha, Shannon and Hemanshu — rode for 10 days across South India. Along the route they were hosted by strangers, IIM Kozhikode and IIM Trichy. The riders of the Eastern Essay, the north-east segment — Ambika, Arpit, Joslyn, Jayesh and Madhav — all MBA students of the graduating batch of XLRI, flagged off from IIM Kolkata on 8 March. Over the two weeks of the ride they too were hosted by IIT Guwahati, IIM Shillong and Assam University. The riders of both segments had interactions with students of their host institutions. Through these interactions and other engagements with media and public, the riders spread the message of health, nutrition and sports.

The Northern and Western segments are planned for later in the year. Crowd-funding platform Dreamawallets, on a pro bono basis, is helping us raise funds. Potential donors can visit: www.garlandingindia.com. We have had donations big and small coming in from all over the country. And we had our first corporate supporter — Indiabulls, coming on board during the Eastern Essay.

543 STUDENTS ENROL FOR COURSES

NEW BEGINNING: Freshers attend the programme at Tata Auditorium in Jamshedpur on Monday. Picture by Bhola Prasad

XLRI freshers get a hearty welcome

OUR CORRESPONDENT

Jamshedpur: A group of 543 students took their first big step towards realising their entrepreneurial dreams on their first day at XLRI, Jamshedpur, that started its 2018-20 academic session on Monday.

A total of 543 students have enrolled for the three flagship programmes — business management, human resource management and general management — this year. The business management course has 181 students, human resource management 182 and general management 165.

Besides, 45 students have enrolled in the three-year PG diploma in management (part time), 10 students in fellow programme in management and 20 in executive fellow programme in management.

The premier B-school welcomed the freshers with an introductory programme at Tata auditorium that began with an inaugural prayer followed by a short speech on the values and ethics of the institute and the importance of keeping one's integrity intact on the path to excellence.

XLRI director Father E. Abraham, who addressed the welcome ceremony, said, "Besides being a higher learning institution, XLRI is also a social institution. We have to carry out our responsibilities as a social entity. A strong connection with the society will provide the edifice for value-oriented learning. We expect the students to make valuable contributions to environment and social leadership."

He went on to say that XLRI had always been socially responsible and underscored the initiatives undertaken by the institute in on-waste management, solar power and bio gas. XLRI has set a target to make the campus carbon neutral by 2020.

The first-year students will have to take part in compulsory village exposure and outbound programmes that have been designed to create awareness about the realities of rural India.

The newbies sounded excited. "I chose XLRI for its legacy and a strong alumni base," said Saharsh Agarwal, a human resource management student from Dhanbad who completed BCom from Delhi University.

His batchmate Shubham Agarwal, with a BTech degree from IEST Shibpur, Howrah said, "The institute is one of the oldest and has been empowering students since 1949. The human resource management course here is the best in the whole of Asia-Pacific and I look forward to better prospects in the corporate world."

ANTARA BOSE

Jamshedpur: Banks analysing statistical models to predict FIFA World Cup 2018 winners are hitting global headlines, with everyone talking about the less-known yet cosy equation between sport and numbers. But, data analytics has been in use for long. How else do sportspersons or countries derive world rankings or licensed betting websites work?

Bringing home this exciting concept — and not just for nerds — is XLRI, Jamshedpur.

Speaking to this paper on Thursday, XLRI senior finance professor Uday Damodaran said they were all set to host their maiden international sports analytics discussion with international collaborators this December.

XLRI will host the three-day Math Sport Asia 2018 from December 10 to 12 this year on the lines of MIT Sloan Sports

Analytics Conference, one of the world's biggest such conferences to analyse sports and sportsperson based on maths, statistics and computing applications.

Along with Damodaran, Math Sport Asia as an organisation has already been founded with Dmitry Dagaev from National research University Higher School of Economics, Russia; Dries Goossens from Ghent University, Belgium; Kokum Weeratunga from Victoria University, Australia; Nobuyoshi Hirotsu from Junendo University, Japan; Phil Scarf from Salford Business School, UK; Ray Stefani from California State University Long Beach, US; and Young Hoon Lee from So-gang University, South Korea.

Stressing the huge link between sports and math, Damodaran said it was an exciting field for number crunchers.

"Data in any sport is about scores, ranks and records. Cricketers terms such as strike rate and economy rate are outcomes of data analysis. Popular in the West, the concept is a bit slow in Asia. So, we thought a summit would be one of the best ways to popularise maths through sports. Since I have a lot of support here, XLRI will be the first business school to host it in Asia to the best of my knowledge," he said.

He added that the event would have keynote speakers such as Hirotsu, Weeratunga, Goossens, as well as Tim Swartz, professor of statistics and actuarial science, Simon Fraser University, Canada; and Steven Stern, professor of data science, Bond Business School, Bond University, Australia, and representatives of data analytics companies such as SportsMechanics and Pitch Vision.

Even laypersons use data unknowingly, he said. "From backing your favourite player or having a hunch about a team, it's never sixth sense but numbers speaking to you," he said.

The new students were welcomed at the inaugural prayer service function on the XLRI campus. The new students will be taken through Special Orientation Programme (SOP) drawn up by XLRI to update their knowledge before regular classes commences.

"India is presently at a challenging phase of its socio-economic transition. We are in the midst of geo-political changes that are both complex and unpredictable. In these times of post-Brexit and high oil prices, it seems nations, organizations and educational institutions like ours have to be prepared for non-linear, macro social-economic eventuality," said XLRI director Father E Abraham.

Advising the students to start thinking about addressing socio-business challenges, Abraham said XLRI being a higher learning institution is also a social institution. "The onus is on the institutions like XLRI to produce men and women of substance and character and not merely competent professionals," he said in his speech.

Introducing the new batch of students to the faculty members, Dean (academics) Ashis K Pani said: "XLRI is known for academic excellence as well as instilling in its students the right values through courses, activities, events and the environment it creates. A unique feature in the first term will be the village exposure programme and the outbound programme. Both have been designed to create awareness about life in rural India and importance of team spirit among the students," Pani said.

ICICI to see cultural change under Bakhshi

Mayur.Shetty@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: ICICI Bank is likely to see a cultural change with the entry of Sandeep Bakhshi, who has a completely different style of working compared to Chanda Kochhar. Bakhshi, who has been appointed chief operating officer (COO), will run the bank during the time when Kochhar is on leave pending an inquiry into conflict of interest allegations. Since Kochhar's term is due to end in March 2019 and Bakhshi has a five-year term, it is believed that he will succeed Kochhar.

Bakhshi, according to those who have worked with him, is down-to-earth, warm and great at relationships. He is seen to be the right candidate to communicate with all constituents and deal with regulatory headwinds. His people skills will come in handy as in seven weeks he will have to address worried shareholders and resolve concerns of regulators.

Digit Insurance chairman Kamesh Goyal said, "He is very updated about the market and tracks competition closely. He believes in empowering his team. The fact that a lot of people directly reporting to him have become CEOs in general and life insurance industry demonstrates that." Goyal and Bakhshi were rivals when the former headed Bajaj Allianz General Insurance and latter headed ICICI Lombard.

MD & CEO Tarun Chugh, who reported to Bakhshi in ICICI Pru Life Insurance, said, "He has given a lot of CEOs to the insurance industry. He is one person who always put the customer first in his thinking. He builds institutions for the long term and does not bother about short-term gains."

in ICICI Bank in 2009 when Bakhshi was the deputy MD, said, "He was a real hands-on person. He never lost his cool in any situation. Bakhshi would empower people. For instance, he had let me handle the $85-million sale of the point-of-sale terminal business all by myself."

Insiders who have worked with Kochhar and Bakhshi say that both are as different as chalk and cheese. Unlike most of the leaders in the bank who began their careers from the headquarters in Mumbai, Bakhshi joined the bank in Delhi after completing his MBA from XLRI-Jamshedpur.

While Kochhar was a big picture CEO, Bakhshi is one to go into details. Unlike Kochhar, who kept family and work separate, Bakhshi has admitted carrying work home. Although Bakhshi has spent his entire career with the ICICI Group, he has the widest range of experience having worked on corporate loans, general insurance, retail lending and life insurance. His last stint in the bank as head of retail coincided with the bursting of the small-ticket personal loan bubble. At that time, Bakhshi is understood to have remarked that bank should focus on 'return of capital' rather than 'return on capital'. With the attention on bad loan recovery, Bakhshi's focus on 'return of capital' might play out well.

ICICI chairman search hits regulatory hurdle

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Mumbai: The ICICI Bank board will have to move fast to identify a new chairman in place of M K Sharma, whose term comes to an end in 10 days. According to sources, the bank was earlier looking to elevate the former Bank of Baroda chief M D Mallya as chairman. Mallya had been recently nominated to the board. However, the proposal has hit a regulatory hurdle.

On May 29, the ICICI Bank board had nominated Mallya as additional director, taking the total number of independent directors to seven. The appointment was subject to shareholder approval. In addition to the outgoing chairman and Mallya, the other independent directors are Uday Chitale, Dilip Choksi, Neelam Dhawan, Radhakrishnan Nair and LIC chairman V K Sharma. The board also has a government nominee director, Lok Ranjan.

There is no formal approval for appointment of members, but banks do inform the RBI and there is an informal clearance from the central bank. In the case of Mallya, the bank has already informed the RBI about bringing him on board. The appointment of chairman is, however, approved by the regulator.

What is likely to delay the RBI clearance for Mallya are the ongoing investigations into the loan granted by Bank of Baroda to Rotomac Industries, whose managing director has been arrested for fraud following a default. Although loans to the group were given as part of a consortium in 2008, the central bank might wait for more clarity on the Central Bureau of Investigation's findings before clearing Mallya. Besides being on the board of ICICI Bank, Mallya is also on the board of Tata Capital.

Current chairman Sharma, who has completed 70 years, has expressed his desire not to continue. "If there is no chairman, one of the independent board members will have to be nominated as chairman," said a senior level source. The presence of a chairman is crucial for AGM, which will take place on August 10.

एक्सएलआरआई में एआईसीटीई चेयरमैन के साथ परिचर्चात्मक सत्र आयोजित

इनपुट नहीं, आउटपुट आधारित होनी चाहिए शिक्षा : सहस्त्रबुद्धे

जमशेदपुर : एक्सएलआरआई में आज परिचर्चात्मक सत्र का आयोजन किया गया। इस दौरान एआईसीटीई के चेयरमैन डॉ. अनिल सहस्त्रबुद्धे उपस्थित थे। डॉ. सहस्त्रबुद्धे के साथ आयोजित सत्र का विषय 'उच्च शिक्षा का भारत में भविष्य-भारत में प्रबंधकीय शिक्षा' था। इस कार्यक्रम में एक्सएलआरआई के निदेशक फादर ई अन्नाराम व डीन (एकेडमिक्स) डॉ. आशीष के पाणि सहित अन्य उपस्थित थे। अपने संबोधन में डॉ. सहस्त्रबुद्धे ने कहा कि शिक्षा उत्कृष्टता की अभिव्यक्ति होनी चाहिए, क्योंकि केवल

बेहतरी के लिए केवल एकेडमिक करिकुलम पर्याप्त नहीं है। उन्होंने शिक्षण संस्थानों में गैर शैक्षणिक गतिविधियों को जरूरी बताया और कहा कि संस्थानों में विद्यार्थियों के समग्र विकास पर ध्यान दिया जाना चाहिए। उन्होंने कहा कि शिक्षा इनपुट नहीं बल्कि आउटपुट आधारित होनी चाहिए। डॉ. सहस्त्रबुद्धे ने कहा कि बेहतर संरचना, लेब, लाइब्रेरी इनपुट के हिस्सा हैं, जबकि आउटपुट एजुकेशन के तहत कोर्स में विद्यार्थियों की उत्कृष्टता, बेहतर शिक्षक के साथ ही संस्थान के करिकुलम को परिभाषित करने

वाला विजन व वैल्यूज होने चाहिए। भविष्य के प्रबंधकों और देश में प्रबंधन के प्रति अपने आईडियाज पर जोर देते हुए डॉ. सहस्त्रबुद्धे ने कहा कि प्रबंधकों को व्यापार और लाभ से परे देखना चाहिए। उनमें नैतिक मूल्यों का समावेश होना चाहिए। इसके लिए नैतिकता, पाठ्यक्रम का एक अनिवार्य घटक होना चाहिए, क्योंकि नैतिकता की जानकारी होना एक बात है और इसे अभ्यास में लाना दूसरी बात। इसलिए संस्थानों

को पाठ्यक्रम के लिए शिक्षकों की नियुक्ति में विशेष ध्यान देना चाहिए, ताकि छात्र उन्हें देखें, समझें और उन्हें सलाहकार मान सकें। उन्होंने कहा कि प्रबंधकों को फॉलोवर नहीं बल्कि नेतृत्वकर्ता होना चाहिए। उन्होंने समाज को देने में विश्वास करना चाहिए। इसके लिए इनिशिएटिव होने के साथ ही लीक से अलग हटकर सोचना बेहतर साबित होगा। उन्होंने एआईसीटीई की पहल 'मार्ग दर्शन' (मेंटोरशिप) की भी

जानकारी दी और बताया कि इसके तहत गुणवत्ता की प्राप्ति के लिए प्रयासरत संस्थानों के शिक्षकों को बेहतर संस्थानों में आमंत्रित किया जा रहा है, ताकि वे वहां की शिक्षण नीति और प्रक्रिया को देख व समझ सकें और बाद में अपने संस्थान में इसे लागू कर सकें। इस दौरान उन्होंने एमएचआरडी द्वारा भारत में शिक्षा के भविष्य को लेकर किये जा रहे प्रयासों पर भी चर्चा की। अपने संबोधन के बाद उन्होंने आआईएम एक्ट

संबंधी विद्यार्थियों के सवालों के जवाब भी दिये। उन्होंने कहा कि सभी पीबीडीएम कोर्स आईआईएम द्वारा उपलब्ध कराये जा रहे एमबीए कोर्स की बराबरी कर रहे हैं। इसके साथ ही उन्होंने कस्तुरी रंगन कमेटी द्वारा सुझायी गयी नई शिक्षा नीति पर भी बात की। उन्होंने कहा कि लीक से अलग हटकर सोचना न केवल उच्च शिक्षण संस्थानों में बल्कि स्कूली शिक्षा के दौरान भी बेहतर व कारगर साबित होता है।
